Pupil A

I can describe how the new owner got the lamp.
The new owner of the lamp is called Holly. She was given the lamp by her boss. He gave Holly the lamp because he fired the last guard and Holly was the only one left. Holly gazed at the lamp in wonder. She decided to take the strange lamp to show her brother. What an amazing lamp! shouted her brother. Who gave you it? Holly explained how she got the lamp. What will you use the lamp for? asked her brother. When the railway is in danger said Holly. So if I am not there trains might crash or animals might die.
The next morning, Holly was walking to the train station when she reached into her bag to get her phone. She accidentally rubbed the lamp. This was when the magic started. Suddenly, the lamp started to shine. Holly was shocked because she didn't expect that to happen.
Instantly Holly was transported to the Amazon rainforest. All around her she could see tigers and hear monkeys. Holly could hear someone calling her name and suddenly she was standing at the railway station in front of her new boss. The boss said where were you?
Holly's new boss was not happy with her and told her to walk along the railway tracks and check for signs of damage. Holly trudged along the track for miles and miles. Eventually, Holly decided that she should head back. It was starting to get dark so Holly lit the lamp. I wonder what will happen if I change the colour of the light. Thought Holly.

When she changed lamp to green she was transported into the future where Holly could see scientists finding out a new planet and hear rich people talking. When she changed it to red she was transported back in time where she could see World war 1 and hear guns. Holly sat down on a bench by the track and thought hard about where she would like the lamp to take her. Holly decided she would like the lamp to Japan so she closed her eyes and rubbed the lamp. When she opened her eyes she could see lanterns hanging and hear people talking in Japanese. Hello came a voice. Holly turned to see it was Ava. She said do you also work here? Cool. Can I please have the lamp? said Ava. Sorry but no Holly said. OK lets go back said Ava. So the two friends went back. Ava said where are you from? I am from America but I moved here. OK said Ava. Where are you from? said Holly. I am from North America. We are here said Holly but the boss was gone and the place was shut down. Ava said. A huge monster came up and looked like he wanted to eat them. Hold on said Holly and she tapped the lamp. They landed on top of a ruin. Few that was close said Ave thanks. But now lets get out so they walked and walked. And a old woman let them in a cottage. Thankyou said Ava. Your tea is great said Holly. At night Holly and Ava set up and the old woman gave them food. Thankyou said Ava. Then the monster came and ate the old woman.
